

OLD TIME OUTING.

Which Samuel Pepys Was Very Much Pleased.

Pepys describes a seven-day Sunday outing, and the very modern ring to it. "Up, and my little before 4, to make us and here he records his account that 'she was so long about then goes on: 'She ready some bottles of wine and cold fowls with us.' Coach horses from London to Epworth they at 8 o'clock, waters, ordered dinner, ate and dinner and were merry." "The day being wonderful up."

Followed a coach to "take the shepherd with a little boy in Bible "with the forced tone then do usually read that was pretty." The shepherd "did" for that boy. In Epworth poor woman with her milk "did drink our bellyfuls of then to the coach, it being night."

And was Pepys with his day's at he records his resolution. "keep a country house, but coach and with my wife on a to go sometimes for a day to and then quit to another there is more variety and large and no trouble as there country house."

FIRST CIGARS.

Were Smoked In Paris as

re cigars first smoked? According to French authority, the weed was not introduced into the return of the French in Spain in 1823. This fact is the author of Hippolyte Auger, the author, who writes thus in his:

from Paris was by way On the route we met recently officers returning from they had generally cigars in this—a new habit, since be- From this point of view sign of 1823 had the good result of establishing a new import trade."

document, however, carries use of the cigar to a slightly period. The "Hermit of the Antin," 1813, going to see a young officer at Paris, at his hotel in morning consuming a Havana cigar. for cigars seems at this time been sufficiently extended to in a common article in the every grocer who was careful to the wants of his customers.

The French Peasant Woman.

She judges a picture with both hands on her hips, and when disapproval appears in her eye one trembles for the picture. When she is actually bored, she strides across the floor to an open window, puts her elbows on its balcony rail, lays her leathery chin on her leathery hands, crosses her sturdy legs, and in this street loafer attitude refreshes her mind. Her fist is capable of a sledge hammer blow. Her husband, yeoman though he is, would hardly be a match for her. He knows it and is visibly proud of it.

I have seen Whitechapel hags rouse their shriveled, bloated selves to fight like fiends, but she, if once she were roused, would fight like a god. In fact, she is a modern type of the plow woman of mythology. If Joan of Arc had been a peasant of this type there would have been no mystery about her military prowess. She is a masculine woman in the best sense.—Lippincott's Magazine.

Full of Tragic Meaning

Are these lines from J. H. Simmons of Casey, Ia. Think what might have resulted from his terrible cough if he had not taken the medicine about which he writes: "I had a fearful cough that disturbed my night's rest. I tried everything, but nothing would relieve it, until I took Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, which completely cured me." Instantly relieves and permanently cures all throat and lung diseases; prevents grip and pneumonia. At all druggists; guaranteed; 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.
